C'est en forgeant qu'on devient forgeron. Practice makes perfect.

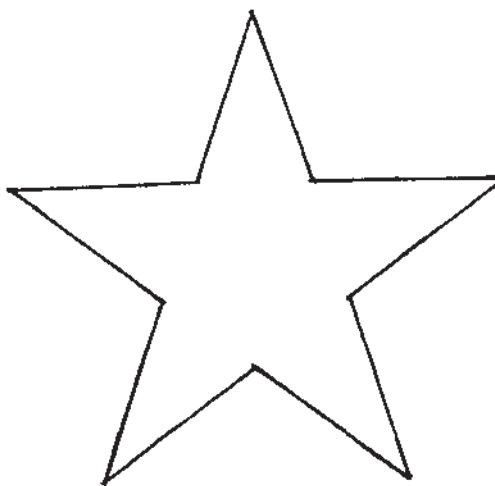

This book is designed to review the basic structures and vocabulary presented in a first year course. Due to the many teaching styles in schools and varied curricula for foreign language classes, it is impossible to say that all students have been exposed to the entire contents of this review manual.

Students: Ideally this program should be used three days per week for ten weeks. The program is designed to reinforce subject matter which was previously taught in class and to expand the basic knowledge of each student with challenging sections. The “vous” form is used in the directions and the “tu” form is used in many exercises.

To use this program all students should have a highlighter pen. You will see a highlighter graphic on many pages indicating that important information follows and needs to be highlighted and studied. This information serves as a gentle review for all topics. It is also suggested that each student have a French-English dictionary and a pack of colored pencils. All answers are found in an answer key at the end of the program.

Bonne chance! Good Luck!

An adverb is a part of speech that describes verbs, adjectives and other adverbs. These words help to express how, when, how often, how much, where and why. Adverbs produce descriptive speech and are easy to form in French. Let's review the following information:

- Many adverbs in French are formed by adding -ment to a masculine, singular adjective ending in a vowel. Rapide, therefore becomes rapidement, meaning rapidly. Vrai would become vraiment, meaning truly.
- If the adjective ends in a consonant, change it to its feminine form and add -ment. Doux would change to douce, and the adverb would be doucement, or sweetly/softly, gently.
- Many adverbs are simply irregular and need to be studied individually:

alors - then assez - enough
aussi - too
beaucoup - much bien - well
encore - still, yet
ici - here
là - there
mal - badly
partout - everywhere
peu - little peut-être - perhaps pire - worse
plus - more quelquefois - sometimes toujours - always très - very trop - too, too much vite - quickly
volontiers - gladly

- Most adverbs are placed directly after the verb they modify.
Elle parle lentement. She speaks slowly.
- If an adverb is used to modify an adjective or another adverb, it will precede the word it modifies.

- If a negative expression is used, the adverb will follow the negative. Il ne lit pas bien.

Exercice- Provide the English definition for each French adverb.

1. malheureusement _____
2. attentivement _____
3. certainement _____
4. poliment _____
5. probablement _____
6. distinctement _____
7. vraiment _____

13. couramment _____
14. joyeusement _____
15. amèrement _____
16. profondément _____
17. franchement _____
18. bien/mal _____
19. vite _____

Activité 2 Traduisez les phrases. Translate the following sentences to English. The adverb has been italicized in each sentence to help you distinguish the parts of speech. Bonne chance!

1. Le chauffeur arrête la voiture brusquement.

2. Hélène va améliorer son français progressivement.

3. Paul n'écoute pas attentivement.

7. Entends-tu bien ce que je dis?

8. Pleut-il toujours?

9. Mes soeurs se disputent constamment!

It is also possible in French to form an adverb with the expressions d'une façon or d'une manière plus an adjective. Study the following:

Il réagit d'une façon stupide. He reacts stupidly.
Lisette parle d'une manière polie. Lisette speaks politely.

Notice that both expressions require a feminine adjective.

Identifiez-Read the following sentences that use adverbs and match the number to the proper translation listed below.

1. Il fait terriblement froid.
2. Le vieil homme traverse la rue distrairement.
3. Je suis totalement confus.
4. Il est gravement malade.
5. Pleut-il beaucoup en avril?
6. Georgette est complètement étonnée.

Which sentence talks about...

- a. being seriously ill _____
- b. raining a lot _____
- c. being totally surprised _____
- d. being terribly cold _____
- e. being totally confused _____
- f. walking absent-mindedly _____
